1. We appreciate and agree with the comments and suggestions made in reference a. Accordingly we should like to suggest the following routine which we hope will cover all possible contingencies in the passing of postal information between our two offices.

2. As previously stated in reference b., it will not be necessary under normal circumstances to service any of the GRCROOND boxes more frequently than once a week. In order to maintain a modicum of timeliness, we request that whenever possible these boxes be serviced during the middle of the week (Wednesday, Thursday). In all instances where we have reason to expect mail during a given period, we shall inform Munich Base/Special Operations Section of the facts and make periodic telephone checks throughout the period in question. As a further aid to Munich Base, we shall in the future advise you whenever the SOB staff intends to be absent from its office for periods in excess of two days. For instance we shall be in Frankfurt from 24 March to 28 March 1960.

3. To facilitate normal operations we shall also make a regular practice of calling Munich once a week as it is much easier to get through from our area than from yours. When, however, you do have to initiate contact, we suggest that you call on the civilian line in our office as it is usually much easier to reach us that way than it is on the military hook-up. We are forwarding as a separate cover attachment a list of all phone numbers through which you may get in touch with us. Identity 1 is the military phone and dial prefix for our office. Identity 2 is the dial prefix and number for the civilian phone located in our office. Identities 3 and 4 are dial prefixes and numbers of [ ] and [ ] home telephones, respectively.
